REPORTED ATTACK ON PT. ARTHUR

Makoff Intimates That Life in Port Arthur Is Not Monotonous

RUSSIANS WRECK VENGEANCE ON THE COREANS

Russia Fears For Her Valuable Herd of Reindeer. Kuropatkin Expects 500,000 Men by September, when He Will Proceed to Drive the Japs Into the Sea.

Hot Time in Port Arthur.

Cronstadt, March 31.—The president of the "War Relief Society" has received a cablegram from Vice-Admiral Makoff, dated at Port Arthur March 29th, which says: "Last night was a very hot one, but we cannot hope for enjoyment here nor in the near future. I sleep without undressing in order that I may be ready for any emergency. Consequently I cannot observe your medical advice to take care of myself, nevertheless I feel splendid."

Crews Receive Prize Money.

St. Petersburg, March 31.—The crews of the four cruisers of the Vladivostok squadron have been the first recipients of prize money for service rendered during the present war. When the war first broke out the squadron, cruising in the Sugar straits, captured a Japanese merchant vessel, which they sank. The prize money distributed among the crews amounted to $75,000.

Russian Reprisals on Coreans.

Seoul, Corea, March 31.—It is reported that a detachment of Russian troops on March 27th, shot the Prefect or Governor of Paku Chow, a short distance northwest of Anju. The Prefect refused to obey the Russian instructions regarding the reception and housing of troops. The Russians are also said to have dispersed the garrison of Wiju, consisting of a regiment of Corean soldiers, after divesting them of their uniforms.

Russians Fear Losses of Reindeer.

Vladivostok, March 31.—Much concern is felt by the authorities here that the herd of 3,000 reindeer on Askold Island, will be destroyed by the Japanese.

The herd, which comprises some of the finest specimens of these animals in the world, is valued at $500,000, the animals having been captured in the extreme northern part of the continent and brought out with great difficulty.

The island is within reach of the guns of any Japanese fleet which may bombard the city. Among the commercial values of the animal is that arising from the superstitious faith of the Chinese in the efficacy of the powdered horns to cure certain kinds of malignant disease. Large sums are realized from the sale of the horns to the Chinese for this purpose.

The animals are available for transportation purposes in Northern Manchuria during the winter months.

Another Attack Reported and Denied.

New York, April 2.—Tokio sent a report yesterday to the effect that Vice Admiral Togo made another attack on Port Arthur on the night of March 30th and 31st, but St. Petersburg had not heard of the report and as Viceroy Alexieff was at Port Arthur yesterday, and reviewed the squadron, the Tokio dispatch probably had no foundation in fact.

Heavy Japanese Losses.

New York, April 2.—That the Japanese losses in killed and wounded in the Chong Ju engagement were more serious than reported in the original dispatches seems to be proved by supplementary messages from Corea to St. Petersburg.

The Japanese wounded were conveyed from the field by hundreds of Corean bearers and so restricted was the Japanese force that on one occasion the red cross flags were hoisted in token of surrender. The Russian cavalry, one detachment stated, was in rather bad condition, and was seen falling back on the Yalu, where it is believed a stand will be made and an issue forced.

Knows Nothing of It.

St. Petersburg, April 2.—The Associated Press is officially informed that up to the present time the government has received no news to confirm the statement sent a news agency from Tokio that the Japs made another attack on Port Arthur during the nights of March 30th and 31st.

Kuropatkin's Molest Design

Paris, April 2.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo De Paris says that the wife of General Kuropatkin's orderly officer, has received a telegram from her husband saying that the general staff does not believe that there will be any great battle before September.

The writer adds that the Russian troops in Manchuria, including the Port Arthur and Vladivostok garrisons, now number 245,000 all told and may be 300,000 by the end of April, and 500,000 by September, when if the Japs have not crossed the Yalu, General Kuropatkin will advance and drive them out of Corea.

The only fear in high quarters is the inability of China to restrain her troops in the event of a Japanese success.

General Kuropatkin has telegraphed General Metzenko to avoid any engagement in which the security of the Russian side should be uncertain.

EXPRESS ROBBED

ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Bandits Hold up the Oregon Express, Blow Open the Car and Shoot the Messenger.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Sacramento, Cal., April 2.—Three masked men have held up the Oregon Express, south-bound, on the Southern Pacific at Copley, near Keswick, and killed O'Neill, the express messenger, and carried off the contents of the express box.

The train stopped at Copley, a small station, for water when three men jumped on board and out the train in two, taking the engine and express car down the track a short distance.

They then stopped the engine and demanded that O'Neill open the express car. He refused, whereupon they blew open the car with dynamite and despoiled it of its contents, but it is not known how much they obtained.

A PIONEER GONE

WINNIPEG LUMBERMAN.

Settled at Fort Garry Thirty Years Ago, and for Many Years Controlled the Lumber Market of West.

Winnipeg, April 2.—W. R. Dick, the pioneer lumberman of the Northwest, is dead. He was born at Kingston, Ontario, in 1851, and came up to Fort Garry in 1871 to look the country over with a view to settling here. Finding that it was all as described, he returned to Kingston in 1872 and brought his family up to settle here. Shortly afterwards he built a large sawmill at the foot of Notre Dame Street East, and later took in W. W. Bunning as partner, who died some eighteen years ago.

For a number of years the firm was the Portage Lumber Company and was the controlling interest of the lumber of the west. In December, 1874, he was elected to the second Legislature of Manitoba, when he defeated Scott of Sunnyside. Among his sons is George Dick, of Calgary, and Frank Dick, of Spokane city.

OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE.

Parliament has been in session for two weeks, and although the amount of business transacted is not large compared with other sessions, good progress has been made. The debate on the address has been disposed of and a number of important questions have been taken up, including the new Militia Bill, which is undergoing a second day's discussion in committee of the whole; the cigarette question, which has been fairly well threshed out; and two important amendments to the Railway Commission bill of last year, regarding the placing of telephones in railway stations, and in regard to protection of public at railway crossings. There also have been a large number of petitions presented, for a Sunday observance law, but the discussion on that question has not taken place.

Yesterday's talk progress was made with the estimates. So far there has not developed any spirit of obstruction on the part of the opposition, nor has the government shown any delay in bringing forward its measures. The only semblance to obstruction occurred last night, when some members of the opposition worried the Minister of Public Works in regard to the transfer of a part of his authority to the Department of Marine.

The resolutions amending the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement were introduced on the first day of the session and the government is prepared to proceed with their discussion, as soon as the opposition are ready. From present appearances it would seem likely that the amendments to the Grand Trunk agreement will not be fought as determinedly as was the original agreement. The opinion seems to be that the opposition have failed to prevent the contract from being made, cannot now afford to oppose its being carried out, in view of the weight of public opinion in its favor.

A vote was not reached on the resolution for the prohibition of the cigarette. The tenor of the debate would indicate that if it is pushed to a vote it will not carry. There was a general agreement of opinion that the cigarette is an injury to the young, but the opinion was still more general that to prohibit its manufacture and sale was an extreme course, the justification for which was altogether established. The Minister of Justice will make an effort to provide a law that will minimize the evil without infringing too greatly upon the liberty of the subject.

It has not yet been developed what the result of the numerous petitions for a Sunday observance law will be; certainly the number of petitions received and the number of signatures is remarkably large, and shows that a very large proportion of the people have their minds strongly made up on the question.

HARD LINES.

The severity of the winter in Western Ontario may be gathered from the following items culled from the Port Huron Times:

Kincardine was three weeks without a train.

There have now been 17 weeks of steady snow.

This time last year farmers were ploughing and grain had been sown on the Hilder and Gray farms. Navigation was also open. Now we have three feet of snow and ice on the harbor two feet thick.

Milverton Sun of March 17: The Toronto mails arrived at Milverton this week and we notice by the papers that there is a likelihood of war breaking out between Russia and Japan.

WINNIPEG MARKETS.

From the Commercial.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 90 1-2c; No. 2 northern, 87 1-2c; No. 3 northern, 82 1-2c; No. 4 wheat, 78c; feed wheat, 53c; and No. 2 feed, 48c, spot or March delivery, and for May delivery: 1 northern, 92 1-2c; 2 northern, 89 1-2c; 3 northern, 84 1-2c; No. 4 wheat, 76 1-2c; all in store Fort William and Port Arthur.

Cattle—Prices are about the same as last week, although there is not much business moving at any price at the moment. Traffic is suspended owing to storm. There is a good prospective demand and values should hold up well. No. 2 white in carlots now track are worth 38 to 39c here, and feed grades 36 to 37c. Farmers' goods in the country, bring 31 to 33c, and on the street here, 35 to 36c.

Darby.—Mating grades are not offering. Feed barley cannot now be bought here for less than 42 to 43c.

ADMIRAL TOGO.

Togo is about 55 years old, and, unlike many of Japan's most distinguished men, of neither noble nor princely birth. He is a simple gentleman, but a great statesman, and a statesman, that clan which has furnished the Island Empire with her best naval men. In fact, when Togo entered the navy, every officer in it was of the Satsuma, just as every officer in the army was of that other great clan, the Choshu. He is described as short, somewhat stout, with full black beard and mustache, and a distinctively Japanese appearance. He is not a great talker; indeed, in manner he is somewhat reserved. Above all he is a cool, resolute, determined, very courageous sailor, quick and alert of perception, but calm and unpretentious in action. He knows his fleet well—knows what it can do to a nicety. He knows the spirit and temper of his men, freshly and passionately moved at this time by a consuming fever of patriotism. Japan confidently expects much from him, and then, and has no fear that they will disappoint her fervent anticipations.

When the war with China broke out, Togo was in command of the Naniwa, a fast vessel of 3,650 tons, one of the first Japanese flying squadrons. On the Naniwa he had early opportunities of distinguishing himself, and these he seized with Japanese daring. Singularly enough none of his exploits in war attracted the world-wide attention which Togo had fastened on him before hostilities began. The incident through which his name first came into prominence was the sinking of the Kowshing, shortly before war had been declared. At the time it was known that hostilities were inevitable, and the formal announcement was expected every day. It fell to Togo's lot to begin the fighting, and this is how it came about, as related by the London Mail:

"The Kowshing, a transport vessel flying the British flag, with a British captain and crew, and carrying some 1,100 Chinese soldiers for Assam, was met by Togo in the Naniwa, who signalled to her by firing two blank cartridges, to stop, which she did. Thereafter a Japanese lieutenant went on board the Kowshing with a preconcerted order from Togo that the transport must proceed no further toward her destination, but at once accompany the Naniwa to the main Japanese fleet. Capt. Galtworthy of the Kowshing, was willing to obey these orders, but not so minded were the officers of the Chinese forces on the vessel; they immediately raised a great clamor, and threatened Galtworthy. Seeing what was occurring, Togo sent a boat to bring off Capt. Galtworthy and his crew, and falling in this attempt, opened fire, and rescued the British officers when they leaped overboard."

REMODELLED AND REPAIRED.

The Sabbath School Institute held in the Presbyterian church on Friday was well attended by delegates from all parts of Northern Alberta.

At the morning session forty-five delegates from Edmonton, Strathcona, Clover Bar, Ellerslie, Leduc and Millet were present.

Rev. C. H. Huestis occupied the chair and after devotional exercises conducted by Rev. D. G. McQueen, Professor Riddell took up the subject "How to Study the Bible."

This was followed by an address by Rev. Mr. Corey, of Strathcona, on "Sunday School Organization."

The afternoon session was attended by about sixty Sabbath school workers, Inspector Porritt addressing them on the subject "Pedagogy in the Sabbath School." The question drawer was then opened and a general discussion followed.

It was decided to form a district association in affiliation with the Alberta Sunday School Association. The following officers were elected:—

President, Principal Riddell.

Vice-President, Rev. Corey, Strathcona.

Secretary-treasurer, H. Gilbert, Edmonton.

Executive Committee—Rev. Fleming, Mr. Weeks, Strathcona; H. W. E. Douglas, H. H. Hull, A. Hutchart, Edmonton.

The evening session was the best attended of the day. Principal Riddell gave an address on "The Individual Responsibility of the Teacher for the Child," followed by a consecration service which brought the most successful convention to a close.

EASTER SERVICES

Easter service will be held in McDougall Methodist church, Sunday morning. In the afternoon an open session of the Sunday school will be held to which parents and friends of the pupils are invited. Addresses will be given by Principal Riddell and the Pastor. In the evening the sermon will be upon the moral and religious training of children. There will be special music during the day.

Colds

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold." A few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

SHIPMANS COMEDIANS.

Shipman's Comedians, who appeared at Robertson hall last night, under the local management of J. C. Griffith, were greeted with a packed house. The entertainment was one of the most refined and humorous of its kind ever presented in Edmonton.

The large audience was kept in a perfect uproar of laughter and the company certainly gained an enviable reputation for refined and exceedingly irresistible humor.

The programme was commenced by a March song, the Handicap, by Bert Harvey and C. LeRoy Kenney. This number and an encore, The Twins, showed the audience what a treat was in store for them. The light-niggle changes of costumes were much appreciated. Bert Harvey was a great favorite with the audience. In "The Man Hater, a straight talk to his silly, soft-headed sisters," he was irresistibly funny. The duets by Bert Harvey and C. LeRoy Kenney were among the best numbers presented. C. LeRoy Kenney's distinct and costume sketches were very thoroughly enjoyed and received flattering applause. The Matinee Girls, by Miss May Courtney and Miss Mildred Keith, was very well received. Excellent dancing by Jack Kraft brought to a close the first part of the program. The second part consisted of a one act play, "Chums," which was a series of very ludicrous entanglements which furnished loads of fun to the audience. Mildred Keith took a prominent part in this and took it well.

The entertainment will be repeated at Robertson hall tonight.

LOCAL.

—Train on time.
—Monday is a bank holiday.
—Winnipeg has an epidemic of measles.

—Friday's westbound train reached Calgary at noon on Tuesday.

—John Sullivan of the General Hospital staff, has been ill the past ten days with a grippe.

—The snow is disappearing rapidly from the streets, and vendors are taking the place of sleighs.

—Tickets for The Chimes of Normandy are on sale at Archibald's drug store. Secure yours early.

—Regina city council wants to purchase the city lighting plant, which at present is in private hands.

—The Chimes of Normandy in Robertson hall on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings of next week.

—"Our Kids" a colored aggregation gave an exhibition yesterday from the deck of a hay rack on McDougall street.

—Hon. A. E. Forget, Lieut. Governor of the Northwest Territories, whose term expired in November has been appointed for another term.

—"Felix, or Tomorrow Will Do" will be the subject of Pastor McDonald's address on Sunday evening at the Baptist church. This will be the last of a series of addresses on "Men Who Failed."

—According to Vice-Pres. White the construction program of the C. P. R. for the present season includes branches eastward from Lacombe and Wetaskiwin, each 25 miles long.

—Senator Loughheed, of Calgary, who returned from Ottawa early in the week, said he expected a short session and thought the election would be held during the coming fall.

The meeting of the council of Local Improvement District 27-8-4 was postponed until this Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, in the fire hall, Edmonton.

The meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid Society has been postponed from Monday, April 4th, to Monday, April 11th. The meeting will be held in All Saints' schoolroom at 3 p.m.

—Free Press.—Alex. Macdonald, the wholesale grocer, accompanied by Mrs. Macdonald, Miss Graig and Master Duncan, have left on a trip to the Pacific coast. Mr. Macdonald will visit all his branch stores in Alberta and British Columbia.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give an At Home to the ladies of the congregation in the basement of the church on Monday, the 4th April, from 4 to 6 o'clock. A plate will be provided for the receipt of voluntary contributions as an Easter offering.

—The settlers of the Brush Hill district, 52 and 53-14, met on Saturday last and decided to organize a public school district. The trustees elected were, S. Bronken, P. Hohne and Mr. Stroh.

—T. S. Reid returned on Wednesday from the Vermilion. A colony of five hundred families from Peterboro, Ont., are expected to arrive early in April, and settle south of Birch Lake. A delegate of the party visited the district last fall and succeeded in having a reserve of a considerable area held for them.

—The Toronto News asks that the corpse of Cashel from the N.W.M.P. barracks at Calgary be investigated, and quotes the remarks of Chief Justice Sifton at the trial of J. Cashel: "The evidence proves to my mind that he had an opportunity to hand not only two revolvers to Ernest Cashel, but a Gatling gun if he desired," and charges that the general "esprit de corps" is lower than it should be.

—A Vancouver of the 22nd says: "The chief feature in the lumber situation during the past week has been the attempt of the association to form a selling pool for the local trade. It is understood that, with the exception of one large lumber firm, E. H. Heaps & Co., all the mills have signed an agreement to enter into the arrangement. The fact, however, that E. H. Heaps & Co. refuse to sign, may precipitate a slump in prices, leading to a demoralization of the market."

—J. Grey, who reached town during the week from the north, reports the roads very bad. On Lesser Slave Lake the weight of snow caused the ice to depress and the water rose over the ice, making traffic very difficult.

—As a result freight is stalled at all the stopping places along the Athabasca and Lesser Slave Lake. Twenty-five teams were at the Landing waiting for hay, which had reached the nominal price of $2.00 per hundred, but could not be secured at all.

The machinery for the Hudson's Bay Company, being sent to Peace river had reached Lesser Slave Lake in safety. The steamer Messenger was at the Landing, and it was reported there she would not be taken down to Dunvegan until spring opens, when the trip will be made by water.

—The Orange Judd Farmer, an American weekly, in the current issue begins a well-worded article on the front page with this significant paragraph: "Not a single word of complaint has reached Orange Judd Farmer from the Canadian Northwest. Yet hundreds of our readers settled there two years ago, while last year the number was up in the thousands. Among this vast number of American farmers and their families who have thus settled in the Canadian northwest in a new country, and under a different government, it is perfectly amazing that not one has voiced dissatisfaction, either to their old friend Orange Judd Farmer, or to any other agency. No great movement of population ever before recorded with such perfect satisfaction to all concerned. We know that it was a good country—we personally travelled thousands of miles all over it in preparing the series of editorials about Canada that were such a popular feature of Orange Judd Farmer last summer—but such entire unanimity of satisfaction with the country among settlers of all sorts and kinds, was as unlooked for as it is gratifying."

—The meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid Society has been postponed from Monday, April 4th, to Monday, April 11th. The meeting will be held in All Saints' schoolroom at 3 p.m.

—Free Press.—Alex. Macdonald, the wholesale grocer, accompanied by Mrs. Macdonald, Miss Graig and Master Duncan, have left on a trip to the Pacific coast. Mr. Macdonald will visit all his branch stores in Alberta and British Columbia.
